About Craig

EXPERIENCE

Craig Myers represents companies and individuals in a variety of litigation matters, including catastrophic personal injury, transportation, premises and products liability, and insurance defense. Mr. Myers places a strong emphasis on early case investigation and analysis, which allows his clients to make the best strategic decisions at every stage of the litigation.

Mr. Myers was born and raised in Dallas, and he graduated from Texas A&M University in 1993. He spent three years working in a diagnostic microbiology laboratory at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center before attending Boston University School of Law. After graduation, he moved back to Dallas and spent more than 15 years working at a large law firm, where he accumulated a variety of litigation experience in the tort, commercial litigation and financial services areas. Mr. Myers' personal experience in defending medical malpractice cases allows him to be very effective in defending serious personal injury matters wherein medical causation of catastrophic damages are at issue.

Mr. Myers also spent three months in the Dallas County District Attorney's Office, as part of the "Lawyers on Loan" program. There,
